

PERSONALITY TEST

Self Assessment

Test Results

Done as a part of the course
STRATEGIES FOR PROFESSIONAL GROWTH
May 2024

PRANAV R 21F1004199

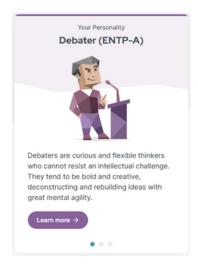

Results from 16PERSONALITIES

The 16 Personalities assessment, based on the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator (MBTI) and Carl Jung's theory of psychological types, evaluates individuals on four key dichotomies to determine their personality type. The results of my tests are shown below:

TRAITS DISTRIBUTION

KEY ASPECTS OF THE PERSONAILTY TYPE

Self Reflection on the Results

Based on my personality test results:

- I am 65% Extraverted, enjoying meeting new people and learning from diverse perspectives. This aligns with my curiosity and engagement in various social settings.
- Scoring 68% on the Intuitive scale reflects my creativity and passion for exploring complex ideas, which is evident in my musical pursuits.
- Preferring Thinking over Feeling (57%) highlights my rational decision-making approach, beneficial in leadership roles where objective analysis is crucial.
- With a 51% score on the Prospecting scale, I balance spontaneity with a need for structure, adapting well in creative endeavors.
- At 65% Assertive, I exhibit confidence and resilience in pursuing my goals and leading others effectively.

Overall, these results confirm I am a creative, curious, and rational individual who enjoys engaging with others, exploring new ideas, and leading with a balanced approach.

STRENGTHS

- Creative and Curious Mindset: My high score on the Intuitive scale (68%) shows my passion for exploring complex ideas and creativity, which aligns well with my pursuits in music and other creative works I involve in.
- Confident and Assertive Nature: Scoring 65% on the Assertive scale indicates that I face challenges eagerly and confidently, qualities that help me to effectively pursue my personal and professional goals.
- Effective Communicator: Known for my charismatic communication style, I combine confidence with wit, making interactions engaging and informative for others.
- Innovative Problem-Solving: As an ENTP, I excel in brainstorming and generating multiple solutions by eliminating traditional methods and looking into innovative and unique approaches.

AREAS FOR IMPROVEMENT:

- Emotional Sensitivity: Being more mindful of others' emotional responses during debates can help me handle tension and build better connections.
- Focus and Practicality: Developing strategies to maintain focus on long-term projects and improving organization skills can help me make sure that innovative ideas are implemented effectively.
- Openness to Diverse Perspectives: Working on being more tolerant of ideas that don't align with logical reasoning, valuing emotional and alternative viewpoints, can help me make better decision.